OpenTable Applauds Los Angeles 2008 Michelin Star Recipients

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (November 12, 2007) — OpenTable, Inc. (www.opentable.com), the leading provider of free, online reservations for diners and guest management systems for restaurants, congratulates the restaurants awarded Michelin stars today in the inaugural edition of the Michelin Guide Los Angeles 2008.

For more than a century, the Michelin Guide has served as an international benchmark for gourmet dining. OpenTable is proud to include more than two-thirds of the Los Angeles-based Michelin star-rated restaurants as part of its OpenTable® online reservations network.

"From entertainment to food, Los Angeles is a trendsetter," said Jeff Jordan, OpenTable chief executive officer. "We are delighted that restaurateurs have embraced the growing trend toward online reservations, and we are honored to include so many recipients of the coveted Michelin star among our network restaurant partners."

OpenTable salutes all 2008 Los Angeles-based Michelin star recipients, especially the following OpenTable restaurants listed on www.opentable.com:

About Michelin Guides

For more than a century, Michelin Guides have helped travelers enjoy better mobility by offering qualified restaurant and hotel recommendations throughout Europe. Now representing 21 countries and two continents, the collection of 17 Michelin Guides includes more than 45,000 addresses. Its team of highly trained inspectors visits establishments anonymously, applying Michelin's international standards for quality across many categories. In North America, the company has introduced Michelin Guides for New York City, San Francisco, Bay Area & Wine Country, Los Angeles and Las Vegas. Michelin will introduce the Michelin Guide to Tokyo, Japan later this month. For more information, visit www.michelinguide.com.
